IMPORTANT NOTE

DHL Parcel offers a wide range of services which verify the recipient's identity and/or age during the parcel delivery process. For certain product categories, the recipient's identity and age need to be already verified before parcel delivery. For such cases Deutsche Post offers additional services, including the extensive POSTIDENT-portfolio. It is the sender's responsibility to check whether the selected service for the goods ordered by his customer complies with the legal requirements. For advice on this subject please consult a specialist responsible or a legal attorney.
